ANNUAL REPORT

OLIVERIAN

A Message from our Head of School

Abby Hood

Dear Friends,

My days are immersed in the lives of teenagers – their energy and humor, their resilience, and also – sometimes – their pain. They keep me plenty busy, but when I have a moment to reflect, I wonder how these remarkable young people do it. From a social media saturated world to a childhood interrupted by a global pandemic, the current generation of adolescents is navigating treacherous terrain. At this moment in history, our mission of helping young people find their place in the world feels more compelling and more necessary than ever before.

Fortunately, we are not in it alone! Our broader community of alumni, families, and friends of the school have stepped up in so many ways over the last year to support our wonderful school. It has been an unparalleled delight to experience a surge in involvement and support from our alumni. A group of our graduates, now sporting advanced degrees and exciting careers, met with our seniors last spring to provide their wisdom and guidance on transitioning out of Oliverian into the real world. Other alumni volunteered their time this summer to make our reunion a success. One alumna serves on our board. Current and former parents have also stepped up in many ways. A group of parents came together to donate treats in appreciation of the faculty. Other Oliverian parents dedicated time and energy to supporting each other on a regular group Zoom call. Other parents take the time to share their stories with prospective families.

This dedication of time, effort, and love was also matched by a strong fund-raising year, in which families and friends whose lives have been touched by Oliverian gave generously to support our program, allowing us to help more young people find their place in the world. These funds were absolutely critical – and especially generous – in the aftermath of the pandemic.

Every contribution of any amount, and every donation of time and talent, from board-level volunteerism to parent testimonials, have helped us grow stronger and more committed to the essential work we do. I can't thank you enough.

Warmly,

Abby

A Message from our Head Emeritus

Barclay Mackinnon

Dear Oliverian Friends & Families,

It is hard to believe, but Oliverian is approaching its twentieth year! As I reflect on this past year's success, I see it in the context of a generation of generosity. Your kindness over these past twenty years has been life sustaining. You have supported over 1,000 students and 200 faculty all working hard to find their place in the world.

Please remember, your donations and contributions ranging from a student center and library, to delicious snacks for faculty and students, are never, ever forgotten. Every gift, action, and special thought has and continues to comfort, encourage, help and support Oliverian's past, present, and future.

Therefore, from the bottom of my heart, during this time of thanksgiving, I need to let you know how important you have been to us. Thank you, thank you, thank you!!!

Much love,

Barclay

Our Mission

To help young people find their place in the world.

I would not be the person I am today if it were not for each and every person at Oliverian. Their patience, compassion, and constantly guiding hands caused me, forced me, to grow into the man I am now finally becoming.

The staff and teachers at Oliverian are truly compassionate and committed to supporting kids who have academic and/or emotional hurdles to overcome and also provide essential guidance to parents. We could not have gotten through this terrible pandemic year without Oli.

THANK YOU!

I cannot thank our donors enough for their support! Because of donors like you, our students are able to enjoy new electronic equipment and 3D printer in our science labs. As an educator, it is so fun to watch my students' eyes light up when they see something they created working and moving – I love that they get to experience the real-world applications of what we are learning. Your donations mean so much to us!

-Kate Lewis, Physical Sciences/Advanced Math Teacher

Just want to thank all of our donors with the most grateful of hearts for continuing to support the Oliverian mission. Your contributions continue to allow us to diversify the way we invest in our student experience and maintain our relevancy in such an ever-changing world. Thank you so much and we look forward to continuing another wonderful year with our Oliverian community!

-Greg Vogel, Associate Head of School

Thank you so much for supporting this school and giving us new things that we wouldn't have been able to have without you. Your support of Oliverian means a lot to me because without this school I would not be succeeding academically.
