

ANNUAL REPORT 2020-2021

OLIVERIAN

Dear Family, Friends, & Alumni,

For more than fifteen years now, I have been entranced by the magic of Oliverian School. Now it is my immense privilege to be in the role of Head, walking in the footsteps of Barclay, Randy, and Will. I am humbled, to say the least. This new role offers a different vantage point, but I have the same awe in my heart for this special place, its remarkable people, and the tremendously important work that we do.

One of the pillars of the Oliverian School experience is stewardship. Through classes and shared activities, we strive to foster an ethos of care – for self and others, community and land. Our beautiful campus and our nurturing community are maintained through active efforts – stewardship. We are all stewards of this beautiful little gem of a school.

Whether you are near or far, you, too, are part of this amazing community. We appreciate the ways in which you have contributed to Oliverian, and we ask you to consider how you can continue to steward the transformative work we do with our students. Of course, one of those ways is through your generous gift to our annual fund. We thank you in advance.

Warmly,

Abby Hood,
Interim Head of School

Dear Friends of Oliverian,

Over the years, as I've roamed the Oliverian campus, I'm always struck by a strong sense of my being at "home." I think of home as being a place for rest and peace. A special place where love, happiness, and family are interwoven very carefully. That's not to say the predictable tensions of family life don't exist. They do but, as with all families, we're committed to the necessary work to smooth those tensions, as all of us learn to live together.

Given the rocky road the entire world has been on for the past two years, it's even more important for our students to begin to find their place in the world by first finding their way at Oliverian. And, most importantly, that we do it all together. Our students and their families, our faculty, Board, alumni and their families, and all those who love our little school. We are all in this together.

No independent school is able to survive on tuition dollars alone. The life changing work we do needs continuing sustenance from the entire Oliverian village. We need the ongoing support of those of who have benefited from the this unique, caring, and loving approach only found here. Our present relies on your past, and Oliverian's future is in your hands.

I'm hoping that each and every one of you will be inspired to contribute, to make a difference, even to sacrifice on Oliverian's behalf. This is a vitally important year, so please "dig deep" so our students, and all those yet to come have this opportunity to find rest and peace at a place where learning, love, happiness, and family are integral to everything we do.

Thank you, and much love,

Warmly,

Barclay Mackinnon, Jr.
Development and Alumni Relations/Head Emeritus

Our Mission

Our mission is to help young people find their place in the world.

The staff and teachers at Oliverian are truly compassionate and committed to supporting kids who have academic and/or emotional hurdles to overcome and also provide essential guidance to parents. We could not have gotten through this terrible pandemic year without Oli.

From the first day at Oliverian I could see what a very different type of school it is. The staff were so caring and compassionate; no one could work at a school like this and not give their best. If Oliverian fits your child, it's a place for them to get help in finding acceptance of who they are, what they want, and to start working on their place in the world.

Celebration for the Class of 2020

Oli is full of incredibly brilliant and incredibly kind people. The teachers are some of the smartest and most knowledgeable people I've ever met and every one of them bring all sorts of cool experiences and amazing new things to learn. Oli is also located in a really beautiful area surrounded by forests and mountains, so when you put these two things together, it makes Oli a really nice place to learn and grow.
